MISSION

U.S. Department of Education five-year grants awarded to NMSU Grants:

Native American Serving Non-Tribal Institutions Grant (NASNTI): To expand access to educational opportunities for Cibola County, New Mexico residents. Through this program, two dual enrollment summer academies will be funded each year starting in the summer of 2012, guiding high school juniors and seniors towards higher education and a career pathway.

Title V Cooperative Grant between NMSU Grants and UNM Valencia: “Cooperating in Innovative Interactive Programs for Rural Hispanic Student Success.” Through this program, one dual enrollment summer academy will be funded each year beginning in 2012, to increase educational opportunities for Hispanic and low-income students at NMSU Grants through the implementation of a full service distance education program, by providing faculty development in active learning methods and use of interactive technologies, and creating innovative degree programs at both colleges that include game design and simulation.

The mission of the NMSU Grants Dual Enrollment Summer Academy is to provide academic enrichment and to foster post-secondary education of Cibola County High School students - Funded through NMSU Grants in collaboration with NASNTI Grant, and NMSU Grants Title V Cooperative Grant, in collaboration with the UNM Valencia Title V Cooperative Grant.
