MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR THIS ASSOCIATE DEGREE AT NMSU GRANTS:

The Associate of Science (A.S.) degree represents the completion of the first two years of several bachelor's degree programs related to the sciences. Students pursuing the Associate of Science degree are advised to select courses that fulfill requirements for specific programs at New Mexico State University and that transfer to other four-year institutions. Many of the courses are General Education (G) courses. Students interested in the natural sciences (e.g., biology or chemistry) or fields closely related to the sciences (e.g., allied health science) are encouraged to follow this degree plan.
