Dear School Administrators, Athletic Directors and Coaches:

Greetings! In the spirit of honor and giving back to our communities, the Striking Eagle Well-Being Education Circle (SEWEC), New Mexico State University-Grants, and the New Mexico Activities Association Foundation, would like to cordially invite your high school basketball team to participate in our second annual New Mexico American Indian Classic (NMAIC) basketball tournament and Education Fair which will take place from January 3-4, 2014, here in the beautiful Albuquerque and Rio Rancho areas.

The NMAIC is sanctioned by the New Mexico Activities Association and will feature 32 talented American Indian high school basketball teams in the State of New Mexico. We are also pleased to announce that we have 3 schools from the State of Arizona. The tournament bracket will consist of four divisions that include large schools (Class 2A-4A), small schools (Class B-A) for both boys and girls teams. An education fair consisting of health, career, life skills, leadership, and college related workshops will take place at the Santa Ana Star Event Center.

The first round of the NMAIC will be hosted by select schools which will be held on their home courts on Thursday, January 2, 2014 while semi-final and championship rounds will be played at the Santa Ana Star Center or Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute.

VISION AND GOALS OF THE NMAIC

Since the NMAIC is expected to draw thousands of visitors to the Rio Rancho, Albuquerque and Bernalillo area, it is vital that we develop partnerships with various organizations, hotels, tribal entities, municipalities, and the general public. All NMAIC activities are generated through the hard work and dedication of volunteers representing various tribal groups and communities. In partnership with the New Mexico Activities Association Foundation (NMAAF), all NMAIC participants are subject to NMAA rules and regulations. The strategic goals of the NMAIC are as follows:

1) Foster sportsmanship and positive character among NMAIC participants, coaches, fans, and communities.
2) Develop the attributes of spiritual, mental, social, and physical well-being attributes among participants.
3) Enhance college preparatory opportunities through workshops, informational sessions, speakers, and appropriate role models.
4) Educate participants about health awareness issues and to promote healthy lifestyles through diet, exercise, and positive choices.
5) Develop a working relationship between New Mexico tribes, schools, associations, programs, and institutions that participate in the NMAIC.

6) The main goals of the NMAIC are to foster educational growth in technology, the arts, college prep, career awareness, and health wellness.

7) There will be six tournament brackets in accordance with school size and gender:
   - Boys Eagle (Vision) Bracket (Class AA-3A Schools) 8 teams
   - Girls Turtle (Wisdom) Bracket (Class AA-4A Schools) 8 teams
   - Boys Bear (Strength) Bracket (Class A-B Schools) 8 teams
   - Girls Roadrunner (Endurance) Bracket (Class A-B Schools) 8 teams

8) All NMAIC participants must be academically eligible according to NMAA rules and regulations to participate in NMAIC. All teams will be guaranteed three games which will count toward each participating school’s NMAA school schedule.

9) All NMAIC players, families, schools, and community members must demonstrate positive sportsmanship and character as part of NMAIC and rules set forth by NMAA. Participating schools outside the State of New Mexico will abide by their respective state athletic association rules and regulations.

10) Our tournament planning committee will develop the bracket and contact the respective team about dates, time, place, etc., in May 2013. In addition, we will offer discounted accommodations here in the Albuquerque Metro area for teams, family members, and fans.

Team Eligibility

The NMAIC is designed to bring together tribal communities and to promote positive character including sportsmanship, education, and well-being. Our NMAIC Planning Committee will choose teams on the basis of the following criteria:

1) Schools must have at least a 20 percent American Indian Student population enrollment. Two Non-Native Schools (one boys’ and one girls’ team) who do not meet this requirement maybe chosen as guest schools to promote the commonwealth of bridging cultures.

2) The participating school must demonstrate a positive school record and highly competitive teams will be given consideration due to fan following, and sportsmanship.

3) Schools that apply and meet the deadline of March 1, 2013. Applications submitted after this date will be placed in open available slots to fill the bracket.

4) Teams must agree to attend at least one educational workshop per day and coaches will be given the responsibility for their player’s attendance.

Benefits of the NMAIC

The NMAIC is not only a basketball tournament but an educational event that will provide participants to learn about life skills, college prep, career awareness, and health education workshops. During our inaugural NMAIC, we had more than 3,000 spectators, 430 student players, 39 volunteers, and several dignitaries attend our event.

1) Players will receive an NMAIC bag which contains information relating to colleges, magazines, sponsorship information, snacks, and school supplies.

2) All teams will receive a trophy regardless of the outcome of the tournament.

3) The Championship team in each bracket will receive a banner that they can display in their gymnasium.

4) Our educational workshops are of high quality and they are mostly interactive student evaluations from workshops last year were rated above average to excellent.

5) The NMAIC tournament and educational workshops will take place at the Santa Ana Star Event Center which includes the opportunity to play on an NBA court. The court was used by the former NBA Development League, “The New Mexico Thunderbirds.”
6) Each bracket will honor an MVP and Four First Selection All-Tournament team members. Trophies will be given to each outstanding player. In addition, four medallions will be awarded for Second NMAIC All Tournament Team in our consolation bracket.

7) Press coverage for your team and community.

8) A few college recruiters are expected to make appearances for their teams and school. Several players particularly girls players were being scouted by college basketball recruiters.

9) The NMAIC will be held during the Christmas Break (January 2-4, 2014) which does not interfere with school schedules.

10) This is the largest American Indian High School tournament in the state of New Mexico involving more than 40 different teams including Navajo Nation, and the 19 Pueblos. We are also pleased to announce our Arizona teams representing the Navajo Nation which include Red Mesa, and Cove-Red Valley.

New Mexico American Indian Classic Tip-Off Classic

We are pleased to announce our host schools to host the first round of the NMAIC on Thursday, January 2, 2014. Host Schools include the following Tse Yi Gai, Shiprock Northwest, Tohajiilee, Pine Hill, Magdalena, Walatowa, Albuquerque Academy, Navajo Pine, Navajo Prep, Laguna-Acoma, and Shiprock.

- Host school will keep gate proceeds which can pay for referees, and sports event personnel.
- A suggested $100 donation to enter the NMAIC Tournament would be ideal for each participating school to guarantee their team slot in the tournament bracket. The donations will be used to purchase trophies, banners, MVP awards, and All Tournament Team awards. Tip-Off Gate admission proceeds can be used for the suggested $100.00 donation.

Please make checks payable to:

New Mexico State University – Grants
c/o New Mexico American Indian Classic
1500 Third Street
Grants, N.M.  87020

- Design an afternoon educational session which can include the following: Meet and Greet session among players through ice breakers so teams get to know each other.
- Invite your local tribal leaders to dialogue with the players and involve your community programs such as health representatives. These professionals can educate the players about various health issues affecting native communities. Another idea would be a community historian who can share information about your community’s proud heritage, traditions, role models, etc.
- Each team will advance to the Albuquerque Metro area to partake in semi-final and championship rounds on Jan. 3-4, 2014 which will be announced at a later date.

SAMPLE OF TIP-OFF CLASSIC SCHEDULE FOR SCHOOLS:

- 1:00 p.m.  Arrival of teams or possibly arrange for schools to have lunch together in cafeteria
- 1:30 p.m.  Local Tribal leader to talk about importance of education, culture, and history of community.
- 1:45 p.m.  Presentation by Community Health Representative on Diabetes Prevention.
- 2:30 p.m.  Local motivational speaker to talk to teams.
- 3:30 p.m.  Team Builder activities
- 4:00 p.m.  Wrap up and adjourn – warm up for teams in Opening Tip-off game.
- 5:00 p.m.  Opening Tip-off game
• 6:30 p.m.  Second Opening Tip-off game (if applicable).
• 8:00 p.m.  Visiting teams return home or continue their journey to Albuquerque.

EDUCATION FAIR AND WORKSHOPS

As part of educational growth among players and fans, we are also hosting workshops that include Native culture, health, careers, and education on January 3-4, 2014. We envision that our NMAIC players can take advantage of these workshops for personal development, opportunities, and well-being. We have also invited well known role models, Native royalty, state legislators, and leaders among our New Mexico tribes to take part in our NMAIC tournament and Education Fair.

We would like to extend an invitation to colleges, universities, health programs, career programs, and tribal entities to become part of this great event. College coaches and recruiters are more than welcome to attend and scout future basketball prospects for their respective colleges and programs. The general public is invited to attend this drug and alcohol free event to promote and support wellness, education, and youth opportunities. Tournament brackets and ticket information will be announced at a later date and is expected to attract more than 3,000 people to the Rio Rancho, Bernalillo, and Albuquerque metropolitan area.

NMAIC Regional Coordinator Volunteer Positions

The NMAIC Planning Committee is seeking responsible and dedicated individuals who would like to be part of the NMAIC Regional Coordinator who can promote the NMAIC in their respective communities by initiating the following:

- Posting NMAIC information at their local gathering areas
- Garnering possible sponsorships and support personnel for NMAIC such as volunteers, role models, guest speakers, half time entertainment, and businesses.
- Identifying media outlets (radio, newspaper, websites, etc.) to promote the NMAIC.
• This is a volunteer position which may include one monthly meeting in Albuquerque or communicate through conference calling or Skype.

Team Liability

All teams are encouraged to provide their own emergency medical personnel or personal trainers in case of accident of injury of players. The Santa Ana Star Center does provide 2 EMTs on site as additional support for sports related injuries on the court. Participating schools must provide their own updated medical insurance carrier in case of sports injury to team members.

Spectator Liability

The NMAIC and its sponsors will not be responsible for accidents, thefts, damage to property.

OUR SACRED BEINGS: EAGLE, TURTLE, BEAR, ROADRUNNER

This year, we have chosen four sacred living beings as part of our Native spirituality among many of our tribal groups in the state of New Mexico. As part of vision which is an important element in planning our future, we have a sacred eagle that symbolizes our future endeavors. The boys’ large school brackets will carry on the vision of the eagle as through spiritual well-being which is deemed necessary in balancing both the modern and traditional worlds. The turtle is our sacred animal that symbolizes wisdom which is an important element of carrying on our mental well-being and attaining a good education. The girls’ large school brackets will carry on the Turtle’s message of wisdom and our thinking processes. The bear bracket symbolizes strength and physical well-being. In our final bracket, we recognize the roadrunner which is a symbol of endurance as it travels in many directions to promote social well-being.

The Striking Eagle Well-Being Education Circle (SEWEC) is the chief sponsor of the NMAIC and was founded in 2010 by Shawn Secatero, Ph.D., a member of the Canoncito Band of Navajos and 12-member traditional council. SEWEC is currently in the process of establishing itself as a non-profit Native organization dedicated to promoting well-being among all people which includes the connection of spiritual, mental, physical, and social wellness pillars.

I have enclosed information in regards to the New Mexico American Indian Classic Basketball Tournament which includes the benefits of each level of sponsorship and deadlines. Please feel free to disseminate our NMAIC Information to your colleagues and those who would be interested in helping to support us. Contact me at (505) 908-2645 or secatero@live.com if you have any questions or concerns about NMAIC. We hope that your organization is able to support our first tournament to enhance the livelihood and well-being of our Native communities. Again, thank you for your time as we look forward to this exciting event.

Sincerely,

Shawn Secatero, Ph.D.
NMAIC Director

NMAIC SPONSORSHIP PACKAGE BENEFITS

Our NMAIC tournament sponsorships will be assigned on a first come, first serve basis. We are seeking four main Eagle Sponsors who are able to contribute to awards, scholarships, and the overall rental of facilities in the Albuquerque Metro Area. As part of giving back, one of our goals (which is dependent on generated sponsorships), the NMAIC would also like to award college scholarships to outstanding student athletes in each of our four divisional brackets. We are confident that our ticket sales and promotions would incur enough funding to pay for NMAIC costs.
