NMSU Grants
Associate Faculty

New Mexico State University Grants invites individuals to apply to our associate faculty (part-time) teaching pool. We are renewing our pool of qualified applicants for various disciplines. While associate faculty members primarily teach during the evenings and on weekends, individuals who can teach during the early morning and day time are encouraged to apply. As our immediate priority the university is seeking individuals who can teach in the following areas:

English Composition (all levels)
Mathematics (all levels)

In addition applications are continuously accepted for all of the following disciplines:

Accounting
Art and Art Studio
Automotive Technology
Anthropology
Building Trades
Business
Business Office Technology
Computer Technology
Criminal Justice
Creative Media Technology
College Studies
Communication Studies
Computer Science
Counseling and Educational Psychology
Developmental Studies Early Childhood
Education
Digital Graphics
Drafting and Graphics Technology
Economics
Education
 Electronics
Electrical Trades
French
Geology
Geographic Information Systems
Government
History
Health Science
Human Nutrition and Food Science
Journalism and Communication
Laguna Acoma Studies
Linguistics
Music
Mathematics
Navajo Studies
Paramedic
Nurse Aide
Public Safety (Corrections Officer)
Philosophy
Psychology
Physics
Sociology
Spanish
Special Education
Statistics
Social Work
Theater Arts
Women’s Studies

Faculty positions require a Master’s degree in a field related to the teaching discipline. Career technical programs require an associate or bachelor degree. To apply, submit a letter of interest, resume and copies of college transcripts to Ms. Joanna Torrez, Human Resources, NMSU Grants, 1500 Third Street, Grants, NM 87020 or call 505-287-6625. Offer of employment is contingent upon verification of applicant’s legibility to be employed in the United States.

NMSU IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER.